

JPL Stories

Thursday,

April 1,

2004

4 PM to 5 PM

JPL Library,

Customer

Service Area,

west end of

Building 111

Room 104

Grace Under Fire: Working International Cooperation with the European Space Agency on the U.S. Rosetta Project

Presented by Claudia Alexander, Project Manager for the U.S. Rosetta Project, Scientist, and Children's Book Author

"JPL did it!..." That's right. Did you ever have a little brother who could conveniently be blamed for everything that went wrong in the household? Now that the International Rosetta Mission has launched, the story can be told of how we survived 3 cancellation reviews, under-funding, stern letters from HQ, and blame for the sun rising in the east.

All employees are welcome.

