

SECTION 273

Margo Young, 4-3007
Manager

Section Office, 4-3009

LIBRARY

Barbara Amago, 4-3183
Supervisor

Library e-mail:

Library@jpl.nasa.gov

Circulation Desk, 4-3840

Info/Reference, 4-4200

Library Fax, 3-6752

Materials Purchase, 4-4200

Secondary Distribution, 4-4200

Library Building 111

M-F 7:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

ARCHIVES

Archives e-mail:

Archives@jpl.nasa.gov

Archives Reference

4-1844

RECORDS

Records Manager, 4-5469

Records Storage Fax, 3-6752

Records Retrieval

4-5469

Records e-mail

Records@jpl.nasa.gov

Seven Things You Should Know about the JPL Library

7. Electronic Journals:
More than 1,200 electronic journals are available, including: Science, 1880 to present; Nature, 1950 to present; Icarus, 1962 to present; JGR, 1994 to present
Other older journals in print or on microfiche/microfilm
6. Digital libraries and electronic books:
More than 2000 electronic books are available including; AIAA papers; ACM Digital Library; IEEE Xplore; SPIE Digital Library; and many more
CRC Handbook, engineering reference books from EngNetBASE and Referex; physics, astronomy, computer science, math and statistics texts from Springer; IT and business books from NASA SATERN system.
5. Databases for peer-reviewed journals:
Web of Science, Compendex, GeoRef, Aerospace and High Technology Database.
And you can search them all through BEACON OneSearch.
4. Access all of above, and more, through the BEACON web site on lab
<http://beacon.jpl.nasa.gov>
3. When you are at home or travel, you can still use all of the above through JPL's
Browser Remote Access System [BrowserRAS]
2. Use BEACON Express [<http://beaconexpress>] to request articles, books, and other services from the JPL Library or through interlibrary loan.
1. Contact the Library for any of the above or additional services
Email: library@jpl.nasa.gov
Library Reference Desk, x4-4200
Location: Bldg 111-104
Website: <http://beacon>