THE HUB

BEACON information COMMONS

JPL Stories

Volcano Adventures on the Earth and Beyond

Wednesday

July 9, 2014

4:30 - 5:30 PM

west end of

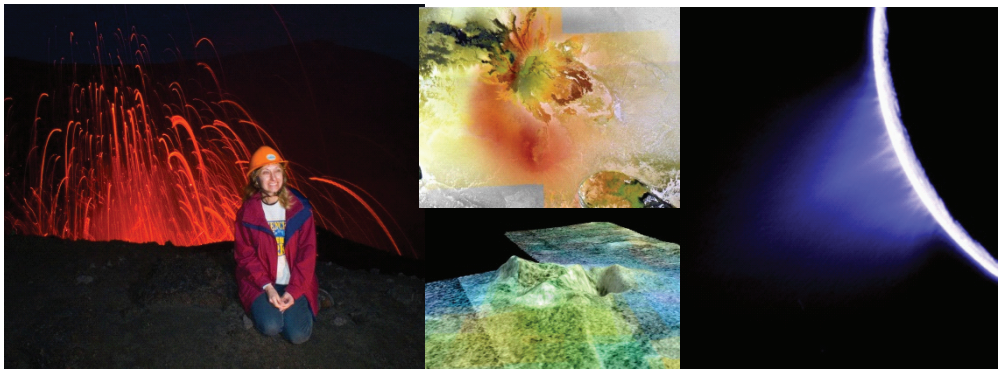
Building 111

Room 104

Everyone is Welcome

Questions? call 354-4200

Presented by Rosaly Lopes, JPL Senior Research Scientist and Planetary Science Section Manager



Rosaly has a passion for volcanoes and a predilection for traveling to see eruptions, and encouraging others to do the same. Come hear about her volcano adventures on Earth, her work on the Galileo mission studying Io's many active volcanoes, and her current research on the geology of Titan, including mysterious features that may be ice volcanoes.